Issue 3

The Mission of SIR is to Improve the Lives of Our Members Through Fun Activities and Events—While Making Friends For Life

The Prez' Sez'

Hi Fellow Sirs,

By now all of us should be familiar with the SIR Mission Statement. It summarizes, in a few words, the reason SIR exists, namely:

“...to improve the lives of our members through fun activities, luncheons and events while making Friends for Life.”

At our February Area Governor training session, a group indicated that the Mission Statement was fine as far as it goes; however, how would we know if we were moving toward achieving it? That has led to our recently adopted Vision Statement:

“To become the preeminent active men's organization in Northern and Central California by improving quality of life through providing opportunities for physical, mental and social activities.”

Becoming the “preeminent men's organization...” now that's quite an undertaking for all of us. What's it mean? To me it means our members need to constantly display our SIR Member Expectations of friendliness, sociability, participation, introducing others to SIR and volunteering whenever possible.

It is a proven fact that men live longer when they are physically, mentally and socially engaged. If you are very likely to improve the quality of your life and live longer if you are an active SIR member, who wouldn't want to join our merry band? We should be flooded with new members clamoring to participate.

That's our goal, to help others improve the quality of their lives and live longer. So now I ask each one of you to get out there, spread the message and invite others into our great organization. They will appreciate it, they will thank you for it – and they will likely live longer and enjoy life more

Best wishes to all of you for a healthy, safe and fun summer,

Ed Benson, SIR State President

Subject: Too soon OLD and too late SMART!!!

Life Gets Better: With Age, Read it through to the end, it gets better as you go!

I've learned that I like my teacher because she cries when we sing "Silent Night." Age 5

I've learned that our dog doesn't want to eat my broccoli either. Age 7

I've learned that when I wave to people in the country, they stop what they are doing and wave back. Age 9.

I've learned that just when I get my room the way I like it, Mom makes me clean it up again. Age 12

I've learned that if you want to cheer yourself up, you should try cheering someone else up. Age 14

I've learned that although it's hard to admit it, I'm secretly glad my parents are strict with me. Age 15

I've learned that silent company is often more healing than words of advice. Age 24

I've learned that brushing my child's hair is one of life's great pleasures. Age 26

I've learned that wherever I go, the world's worst drivers have followed me there. Age 29

I've learned that if someone says something unkind about me, I must live so that no one will believe it. Age 30

I've learned that there are people who love you dearly but just don't know how to show it. Age 42

I've learned that you can make someone's day by simply sending them a little note. Age 44

*I've learned that the greater a person's sense of guilt, the greater his or her need to cast blame on others. Age 46

I've learned that children and grandparents are natural allies. Age 47

I've learned that no matter what happens, or how bad it seems today, life does go on and it will be better tomorrow. Age 48 I've learned that singing "Amazing Grace" can lift my spirits for hours. Age 49

I've learned that motel mattresses are better on the side away from the phone. Age 50

I've learned that you can tell a lot about a man by the way he handles these three things: a rainy day, lost luggage, and tangled Christmas tree lights. Age 51

I've learned that keeping a vegetable garden is worth a medicine cabinet full of pills. Age 52

I've learned that regardless of your relationship with your parents, you miss them terribly after they die. Age 53

I've learned that making a living is not the same thing as making a life. Age 58

I've learned that life sometimes gives you a second chance. Age 62 I've learned that you shouldn't go through life with a catcher's mitt on both hands. You need to be able to throw something back. Age 64

I've learned that if you pursue happiness, it will elude you. But if you focus on your family, the needs of others, your work, meeting new people, and doing the very best you can, happiness will find you. Age 65

I've learned that whenever I decide something with kindness, I usually make the right decision. Age 66

I've learned that everyone can use a prayer. Age 72

I've learned that even when I have pains, I don't have to be one. Age 74

I've learned that every day you should reach out and touch someone. People love that human touch-holding hands, a warm hug, Or just a friendly pat on the back. Age 76

I've learned that I still have a lot to learn. Age 78

I've learned that life is what you make it, and your life is much better when you make someone happy. Age 80+

I've learned that you should pass this on to someone you care about.

Dave Baugher Branch 152—Arnold

By now you know I walk, hike, backpack, a lot. My 2019 January through June journal indicates nearly 600 miles have been covered on my two feet thus far this year, but walking in the Open? Well. I guess you need to know that for the first time I volunteered for the U.S. Open at Pebble Beach.

Being a marshall on the 5th tee really did not mean much walking during my shift. However, it was nearly a mile to and fro every day during my shifts of four days. However, the U.S. Open volunteer pass did allow me access to the tournament once my shift was over and on those days that I did not work.

So walking in the Open? Luann came down and joined me on Thursday at the 5th hole. Once my shift was over we went walking! For hours we walked everywhere at Pebble Beach. Yep, we saw the golfers; Tiger, Rory, Phil, and all the others. Yes, we saw the amazing tee shots, swings, and putts. But, most of all, we saw the majesty of Pebble Beach as we walked everywhere that we were allowed.

Pebble Beach such an amazing place, widely regarded as one of the most beautiful courses in the world, it hugs the rugged coastline and has wide open views of Carmel Bay, opening to the Pacific Ocean on the south side of the Monterey Peninsula. In 2001, it became the first public course to be selected as the No. 1 Golf Course in America by Golf Digest. Indeed this is a scenic place and under a beautiful California sun, we saw it all.

So I walk. This coming month it's a bit different than walking in the Open. On July 1st, before you receive this SIR's newsletter, I will be out walking on the Pacific Crest Trail, and by the time we get together for lunch at Pinebrook, that hike will be over. If everything goes well, my hike from Dunsmuir, CA to Ashland, OR will be covering some 200 miles through the Trinity Alps and Marble Mountains. This trip will see me leaving California and looking forward to covering the final 1000 miles of Oregon and Washington over the next three years.

Walking in the Open? Yes, and sleeping under the stars. Talk to you later...

Kenny Rogers once sang:

"You've got to know
when to hold 'em,
know when to fold
'em, know when to walk away, and know
when to run..."

More by Dave Baugher

Since 2014 I've been taking an annual hike along the Pacific Crest Trail. This year there was a bit of an anomaly during my hike; it lasted only 48 hours. Let me tell you the story about my short PCT hike.

To sum it up here is what occurred over two days of PCT hiking from May 13th to May 14th. Leaving Sacramento on Amtrak at midnight, I arrived in Dunsmuir at 5:30 a.m. on the 13th. I caught a ride from a fellow train passenger to the PCT trailhead, where in the early morning light the hike commenced. Everything went well, covering 17 miles and a total elevation change of 7,100'. It was a tough day, ending at a snow covered ridge overlooking Mt. Shasta. However, the trail would climb another 1,000' in the next section, then cross steep, mile long snowfields, in the shade of high cliffs that could not be circumvented. Falling asleep with my face on topographic maps, I slept 12 hours straight that night.

Morning broke to a boiling grey sky, blowing winds, falling rain with a faint mixture of snow mixed in to boot.

Special Interest Articles

Then I received a winter storm alert for this very area. The Pacific Crest Trail from this location climbed higher and would stay in the snowy elevations for 60 miles, then descend to the town of Etna, California. The decision was easy; I packed camp, headed back down the trail, contacted Luann, and made a train reservation for the midnight ride back to Sacramento.

I'm sitting at home writing this letter to you all. Thinking about all of our bad May weather, I'm confident the right decision was made in light of the circumstances seen on the trail that morning. Mentioned many times, my goal is to complete the PCT by my 61st birthday. Luann is supportive, my friends are watching out for me, Trail Angels are looking over me, and my spirit is in good shape. The judgement call on that windy ridge yesterday was correct. More to come!

Twenty-six miles across the sea
Santa Catalina is a-waitin' for me
Santa Catalina, the island of romance....

Still More-Dave Baugher Branch 152—Arnold

Catalina, that island off the coast of California and here I was sailing from San Pedro to Avalon, the largest town on the island for a three day backpacking trip along the TransCatalina-Trail (TCT). Hiking Catalina you might ask? Yep!

Our California Catalina Island was originally settled by Native Americans. The first Europeans to arrive on Catalina claimed it for the Spanish Empire. Over the years, territorial claims to the island transferred to the United States. The island was sporadically used for smuggling, otter hunting, and gold-digging, before successfully being developed into a tourist destination by chewing gum magnate William Wrigley, Jr. beginning in the 1920s and since the 1970s, most of the island has been administered by the Catalina Island Conservancy. Though Catalina is a short 90 minute boat ride away, it feels like another world. The Catalina Express Ferry operates between the two small, quaint towns on the island — Avalon and Two Harbors — and the remainder of the island is primarily wilderness. Ferries operate regularly from the mainland cities of Dana Point, Long Beach, and San Pedro.

The 37.2 mile Trans-Catalina Trail traverses the island, from Avalon on the eastern tip to Starlight beach at the western end. Of course, once you get to the end, you've still got to hike back to Two Harbors to catch a boat back to the mainland. This adds another nine miles, making the total mileage over 46 miles — perfect for a long backpacking getaway.

Luann and I decided to hike the TCT in March, to see the island's spring flowers over verdant green meadows against the sapphire blue backdrop of the Pacific Ocean. We got the greens of spring, kaleidoscope of flowers, and showers! Well, only the first day. As we left Avalon with our backpacks, the rain began falling, and continued to fall for the next three hours. I can't say it was an easy start, as the slippery mud impeded our progress up to the island ridgeline, but Luann's smiles let me know everything was ok.

We made our first night's campsite at Black Jack camp, with sunshine to spare and other hikers to talk with about the day. Over the remainder of the trip the weather cooperated and we enjoyed beachside camping at Little Harbor and Parsons Landing. Highlights of the trip included:

Seeing buffalo roaming freely over the hills; Roaring campfires, clinking glasses of wine as the sun set to the west; Flowers with colors, colors, colors; Waiting for the ferry while enjoying a seaside margarita;

Hiking Catalina in the spring has become one of my favorite hikes in California, right up there with the John Muir Trail and the Lost Coast. It seems so distant, twenty-six miles away, restin' in the water serene.

For many years, the Western Intercollegiate Championships have been held at Pasatiempo Golf Course in Santa Cruz. The event brings together golfers from 20-25 colleges throughout the U.S. for a 3-day tournament.

The first day practice round pairs two collegians with two Pasatiempo club members. Over the years, I was privileged to play with many golfers who went on to star on the PGA circuit, including Tiger Woods when he was a sophomore at Stanford University.

Tiger didn't win the individual trophy, but Stanford won the team championship. Right after the closing presentations, Tiger left for Augusta and the first of his Masters appearances. He qualified by virtue of winning the U.S. Amateur earlier that year.

During the last Branch 59 BEC meeting it was suggested that we acknowledge an outstanding member of Branch 59 in each Pathfinder Edition. It was unanimously decided that our first recognition should go to the man that many of you have not seen for awhile—Sir Fred Gotthardt!

Fred is the man that has been the backbone of SIR for many years. When I first joined in 2004, Fred was Mr. Cyber Geezer. He still maintains all of the monthly SIR reports and keeps up our Access Database. In addition, he is Assistant Editor of SIR Happenings, and of the Branch 59 Pathfinder. I know that without Fred, I would be in serious trouble. He is also a wonderful friend.

TRANSCENDENCE'S

BROADWAY UNDER THE STARS

On Sunday, August 25, 2019, we are planning a group activity to see Those Dancin' Feet produced by Transcendence Theatre's "Broadway Under the Stars" at Jack London State Historic Park.

This will be the closing night for this show with a Broadway cast who will be singing and dancing and whirling through decades of dance. Plus, you will be experiencing the magic of Broadway while looking out at a hillside covered in vines and redwoods from the ruins of a 19th century winery. No need to fly and go to New York City, London England, or L.A., as this is in your backyard in Glen Ellen. The event is open to all Sirs, spouses, significant others, and guests.

The schedule that is planned is to arrive about 5 pm or so when the theatre opens and picnic together before the show and enjoy live music. You can bring your own food or buy food from the food trucks on site. Beer and wine can be purchased but not brought in. The show starts at 7:30 pm. and ends around 10:00 pm with a 15-minute intermission.

No need to worry about walking with a recent knee or hip replacement, as there are golf carts for you and your group to be driven to the picnic and theatre area. Just ask for an accessibility golf cart when driving up the entry road to the park.

We have secured a substantial discount with the theatre and they have provided us with a concierge who will help you book your tickets over the phone. Simply visit www.SIRsBroadway.com and fill out the reservation form. Our dedicated Sales Coordinator Lorenzo Alviso will then call you directly to book your tickets.

You may also reach out to Lorenzo directly at

Joke of the day

father replied.

A little girl climbed up onto her grandfather's lap and asked, "Did God make me?" "Yes," the grand-

"Did he make you too?" "Yes," said the grandfather.

"Well," the girl said, looking at his wrinkles and thinning hair, "he sure is doing a better job nowadays!"

Annual Gathering Branch 17/176

Annual Branch 17/176 Picnic, A Big Success!

What a great Picnic, or as someone said, "What a Great Garden Party!" From what I have heard, everyone had a great time!

There were 67 Sirs and guests from our Branch 17 joined by 65 Sirs and guests from Branch 176 under the shade oaks at the Windsor Golf Course for good camaraderie, drink and food. If that wasn't enough, add the raffle, that had over 30 prizes and a bingo game that had cash prizes. Off in a corner of the event enter was a cornhole game for people to test their dexterity. The day was made even more pleasant with background music provided by Mark Burchill. A great selection of various tunes that enhanced the ambiance.

I have to take my hat off to our caterer, they did a great job by providing an excellent meal. There was plenty of food for anyone wanting seconds. The menu consisted of BBQ chicken, vegetarian pasta, salad, chili beans and garlic bread. This was topped off with a great carrot cake dessert! If you were there, you know how good it was.

Raffle prizes ranged from a bottle of zinfandel, a hat, a cork screw and a private tasting for 10 donated by Christopher Creek winery, a bottle of Korbel Champagne along with VIP tasting donated by Korbel, a round of golf for four, including cart donated by Windsor Golf Course, to 11 gift baskets loaded with goodies ranging from a margarita basket to a bath time basket to kid's stuff and gourmet dog treats. Our own Chris Nolen made out like a bandit. He and his lovely wife went home with a giant salami donated by Ritz Food, a hand-made quilt donated by Lynn Scapeccia and one of the gift baskets! Quite a day.

I could go on and on, but if you were there, you know how good it was. If you were not there, you missed a truly great Sir event. Be sure to sign up next year. Oh, by the way, if you want to get on the Picnic Committee, see me, Ted Scapeccia. I will see to it you have something to do.

Speaking of the Picnic Committee, we don't want to forget to thank Dennis Mangan, Glenn Seime, Al Petrie, Rich de Lambert, George Traverso, Gary Bondi and Mark Burchill for their hard work creating a truly great event!

On-going Event

Putting together a Baseball game at the Aces in Reno. We can get tickets for infield premium seats (Dugouts), or in the upper sections of 108-109-110. The tickets are $24.00 and we get a $20.00 free hat. We need twenty Sirs, family, or friends to get this great deal. The games are Friday, Saturday or Sunday. The dates are listed below. If you are interested email me back with the date you prefer, and how many tickets you might need. The sooner I know how many are interested I will get in touch with the Aces office and make a deposit for the amount of seats we need and the date.

August 2nd, 7:05 pm, 3rd, 7:05 pm, 4th, 1:05 pm (Omaha)

August 16th, 7:05 pm, 17th, 7:05 pm, 18th, 1:05 pm (Sacramento)

August 23rd, 7:05 pm, 24th, 7:05 pm, 25th, 1:05 pm (Saint Louis)

I Have 16 people interested in going to the Aces game in Reno. The most popular date is November 25th. I am hoping we can get at least the 20 we need to confirm for the game. It would be great if we have 25 Sir, Family or Friends sign up in case we had any cancelations.

Your help is requested!

Please submit Photos as jpg files and news Articles for SIR Happenings in Document format. It is extremely difficult to import many of the newsletters pdf files because of the color blending, and fixed layouts etc. when in pdf format. I can still use the pdf files but it would be nice if I didn't have to choose what goes into the Happenings. For example, the feature about Veteran' Honor Flight was not taken from a pdf.

I do appreciate the newsletters and other information that has been sent as you can tell from the large file size of the Happenings e-file.
